ADVANCE DIRECTIVE INFORMATION AND GUIDE

The Louisiana Declaration serves as your state's living will, allowing you to state your medical care wishes in the event of terminal illness. You can designate an agent to make decisions for you in that situation. The form takes effect when deemed necessary by a doctor. Optional organ donation decisions can be included. Mental health directives are available upon request. This document is legally binding for competent adults aged 18 and older.

How do I make my Louisiana Declaration legal?

Louisiana law requires two adult witnesses to sign your Declaration who must know you, confirm you are of sound mind, and not be related or entitled to your estate. You do not need to notarize your Louisiana Declaration.

Whom should I designate as my agent?

Designate a trusted agent to make medical decisions on your behalf if you become unable to do so. Ensure this agent understands your wishes and is willing to accept the responsibility. You may also appoint an alternate agent to step in if the primary agent is unavailable. This arrangement provides flexibility for changing medical situations. Clearly communicate your expectations for future care and quality of life to guide their decisions.

What if I change my mind?

You may revoke your Louisiana Declaration at any time, regardless of your mental condition, by:

- Destroying the document (canceling, defacing, burning, tearing, etc.)
- Signing and dating a written revocation
- Verbally expressing your intent to revoke
- Your revocation becomes effective once you notify your doctor

I have filled out my Advanced Directive, now what?

1. Store your Louisiana Declaration securely but accessible, avoiding safe deposit boxes. Share signed originals and copies with your agent, alternate agent, doctors, family, friends, clergy, and relevant healthcare providers. Keep copies in your medical records at nursing homes or hospitals.
2. Regularly update your medical treatment wishes with agents, doctors, clergy, and loved ones, especially if your health changes.
3. Utilize Louisiana's Living Will Declaration Registry for advance directives, enabling healthcare providers and loved ones to access your directive if you can't. More information is at <http://www.sos.la.gov/OurOffice/EndOfLifeRegistries/Pages/default.aspx>.
4. Consider saving a copy in an online personal health records platform for easy sharing. To make changes to your documents, complete a new one.
5. Note that Louisiana directives are not effective during medical emergencies; CPR will be given unless specified otherwise in prehospital medical care directives or do not resuscitate orders.
6. Consult your physician if you wish to obtain the Advance Directive form.
